HELP FOR GAMBLING

Losing sleep over gambling?

While methods of gambling may seem obvious, emerging technology has blurred the lines to expand the range of ways people gamble. Someone can experience gambling harm if they are addicted to an activity where they cannot control the urge to participate, leading to a negative impact on their lives.

Gambling harm is characterised nationally as "difficulties in limiting money and/or time spent on gambling which leads to adverse consequences for the gambler, their family or friends and for the community".

The Department of Social Services has developed free online support for anyone affected by gambling, available at www.gamblinghelponline.org.au.
